TRADITIONAL THAI WEDDING package

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR BUDDHIST-RELATED WEDDING

It is important to note that is a genuine, Buddhist Service and the monks should not be requested to pose for pictures because it is considered highly insulting. In addition, the wedding attire should not be too revealing, seeing that it should likely represent the respect to the religious and the tradition of the monks. The ceremony can take place at anytime of the day before 4.00 pm, as the monks are restricted to stay in their temple in the evening.

LEGAL REQUIREMENT

ADMIN & HUMAN MANAGEMENT GROUP

Steps for registering a Marriage in Thailand

For the wedding couple requirement:

Under Thai law and by official way for a marriage to be legally recognized the parties must be registered at what is called the Amphur (Register's office) each district in Thailand has it's own Amphur (Local government office)

If either party is foreigner, the register's office requires authenticated copies of a passport with signature, a completed statutory declaration translated into Thai and the documents mentioned in paragraph 2 below, if appropriate. Statutory declaration forms are available at the consular section of the embassy. The following steps should be taken to register a marriage.

Completed the statutory declaration and have their signature witnessed by the consul or the vice consul. They must present their passport as proof of identity. The fee is $ 10 (Approximately Baht 500)

Have the statutory declaration translation into Thai at the translation agency. If one of the parties, or both, have been married before. They must have also have their original divorce certificate or the original death certificate of their spouse translated into Thai. The embassy does not provide a translation service.

The embassy only accepts Thai Baht as payment of service.

After the documents have been translated they must be authenticated by:

The legalization division
